Reference: Invitation as Keynote Speaker to the 5th International Conference on Language, Education, and Social Sciences on November 11, 2023

Dear Dr. Djahimo,

The Language Laboratory of Nusa Cendana University is going to host its 5th International Conference on Language, Education, and Social Sciences (ICLESS). This year's Conference will have the theme "Shaping the Future of ELT in Industry 5.0" as its theme. This theme was thoroughly taken into conscious consideration in light of the advancements in IT these days, particularly the use of AI-generated products. We also know that computers, laptops, smart phones, and tablets that are connected to the internet are things that have shaped our world across sectors, including ELT. So, as we're entering 5.0 digital technologies, the question is: how can ELT benefit from them? And if it is possible, how? In this case, ELT is not only about teaching and learning (and also researching) tools, materials, and processes; it is also about the human resources who are in charge of conducting ELT.

The Conference is scheduled for November 11th and will be streamed online from 8 a.m. to 17 p.m. central Indonesian time (UTC + 8 hours) using Zoom. We invite you to share with us your thoughts and analysis with reference to the theme. We believe that your thoughts and intriguing analysis on the 5.0 industry, its positives and negatives, and how they can influence the ELT setting and deliverables will be inspiring. We will be greatly honored if you will positively consider and accept our invitation.

Detailed information and practicalities of the Conference will be communicated to you as we progressively prepare for the Conference. We look forward to a positive confirmation from your end. Should you have inquiries on the Conference's arrangements, please do not be hesitant to flag them out to us through this email.

Sincerely,

Linda Rupidara
Secretary
